EASTERN DATES TO NOV. 26.

EASTERN STATES.

The Mansfield-Fisk Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Mansfield-Fisk suit came up again to-day in Yorkville police court. A large attendance of spectators were present. After some sparring between an attorney and Miss Mansfield upon the witness stand, she testified that a waiter named King had left her employ and went into the service of Fisk. An affidavit made by King had been served upon her. It was false. Portions of the affidavit which have been published were read in court. Fisk was permitted to leave court on account of a business engagement. Mansfield testified further as to her past history. She was born in Boston, is 24 years old, and was married in San Francisco to Frank Lawlor, who is still living. A good deal of argument here followed between attorneys, one objecting to the course of examination and protested against spreading scandal before the public. She continued: I met Fisk at Boston. A friend got her apartments in the American Club House. She received letters from Fisk. She continued: I have got some of his letters. I never gave any away. I do not know how many I yet have—could not tell. Suppose I have five hundred left. I had some property (personal) when I got acquainted with Fisk. Had no bank account, but I certainly was not poor. I have always been well cared for. I was not supported by Fisk personally while at the American House. Money for my support came to me through stock operations carried on by Wm. H. Marhon, with money furnished by Fisk. Money thus received amounted to $200 or $300 per week. After leaving the Club House I lived in Jersey City. I received money while there through the Erie Railroad from Fisk, who lived there with me.

After further testimony the case was adjourned to December 2d.

Peter B. Sweeny, who will be a witness in the case, was present in court.

It is stated that the whole Board of Auditors, twenty-five in number, including Mayor Hall, will be arrested on Monday on a charge of complicity in city frauds.

Connolly's arrest to-day created quite a flutter at the City Hall. Shortly after it became public, it was generally talked about throughout the city. The arrest was made by Sheriff Brennan in person. Connolly was taken wholly by surprise. The arrest was based on the same summons used in the cases of Tweed, Ingersoll, Garvey and Woodward. Connolly's name was added to the others afterward. Connolly, in charge of a deputy, started in search of bondsmen. It was announced later in the afternoon that Eugene Kelly, banker, who is reported to be worth $11,000,000, would give bail.

Eight new cases of small pox are reported since noon yesterday, making fifty-seven cases since last Saturday, against forty-three cases the previous week.

Dispatches received yesterday, state that rain has been falling in considerable quantities pretty well all over California.

Republicans of New York will put a stop to appropriations for sectarian schools which have been common under Democratic policy.

Gov. Booth of California has appointed Albert Hart of San Francisco to be his Private Secretary. He has also appointed a full set of new officers for the State Prison. Mrs. Booth, mother of the Governor, will preside over his household during his official term.

For the first time in the history of Massachusetts a German has been elected a member of the House of Representatives. They have had Englishmen, Irishmen and Scotchmen, but Mr. Bartholomez from Boston, is the first German elevated to legislative honors.

A few days ago a heavy snow storm occurred on the Kansas Pacific railroad. One express train was completely snowed in. The storm increased to a hurricane, and the telegraph poles were blown and hurled across the track for miles, the wires becoming entangled in the machinery and wheels of the cars. The engineer and fireman were driven from their posts by the intense cold, while hundreds of buffalo congregated around the cars, seeking shelter from the hurricane. The snow soon drifted over the tops of the cars. Relief came on the third day.

A dispatch from Washington to the New York Tribune says: The President since the New York election has thrown off somewhat of the reserve which has heretofore characterized his conversation concerning his own canvass for renomination. He has now said to several persons with perfect distinctness that he no longer has any doubt about his renomination and re-election.

OREGON.

The fire company at Roseburg has been equipped with hooks and ladders.

The Hosiery Manufacturing Company at Jefferson are about to start up their machinery.

A thief at Roseburg has stolen a lot of razors. If the owner of the razors catches him he will give a lathering without extra charge.

Prof. S. W. King has built up an excellent Academy at Lafayette. He is one of the most successful teachers in the State. His school now number 120 pupils.

The Roseburg Plaindealer has been visited by a Congressman! Fact! And the visit is an event in the life of that journal. It never had a call from a great man before. So it says of Mr. Slater that "it is many years since we have had so able a Representative at Washington." Isn't this a trifle severe on our late Congressman, Hon. Joseph Smith, not to mention Senator Kelly who is believed to be dead?

A letter from Hillsboro, dated 27th, gives these items: A man named Jacob Smith fell and broke his arm day before yesterday while hauling wood.......Snow fell six inches deep yesterday and to-day, and the usual cry was raised for feed for stock by the straw-burners who burn up the profits of the farm in summer and howl for feed in winter.......It is rumored that the Tualatin River Company intend to run their boats up to this place and Cornelius to take freight. As near as can be learned there are about 50,000 bushels of oats in these plains awaiting transportation, and 30,000 bushels of wheat.

THE TERRITORIES.

In Eastern Montana a party of ten men were surprised by Sioux Indians lately and eight of the number killed.

O. B. Clark, a miner near Diamond City, Montana, was caught by a caving mass of earth a few days ago and killed.

It is proposed to divide Stevens county, W. T., (the county above Walla Walla,) and to create a new county to be called Whitman. The name is well selected.

Reduction works of great capacity for crushing and smelting ores are nearly finished in Helena, Montana. Heretofore much ore has been sent out of the Territory for reduction.

The half-breed British traders who have been supplying the Indians of Montana with arms, ammunition and whisky have all been expelled from the Territory by the United States military forces.

They are having fun in Utah about the Ogden tin mines. The Corinne Reporter says: "An assay of rock taken out of the Ogden tin mines has produced 78 per cent. oyster cans and 22 per cent. wagon tires. Very rich."

W. G. Langford, Esq., well known in Oregon, and for a long time an attorney at Walla Walla, is now practicing law in California. He went from Oregon two or three years ago to the State of Mississippi, and has now turned up in California.

A fiend in Silver City, Owyhee, saturated a dog with kerosene and set it on fire. The poor animal ran howling through the town till death ended his sufferings. The Avalanche says the perpetrator of the act, could he have been found, would have been lynched.

Scientific persons at Ogden now experimenting on the so called tin ore, pronounce it cadmium, a metal first discovered by Professor Stringmer of Gottingen. This cadmium is described as being nearly as white as tin, but somewhat harder and more tenacious. It is very ductile and malleable and susceptible of a high polish, and as volatile as mercury. It is more valuable than tin. This statement is creating a greater excitement than all the reports of tin discoveries combined.

Railroad Meeting at La Grande.

LA GRANDE, Union County, Oregon,
November 18, 1871.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR: At a meeting of the citizens of Union county, Oregon, held at La Grande Nov. 18, 1871, Gen. John H. Stevens was chosen Chairman and E. S. McComas Secretary. Gen. Stevens, in a brief speech introducing Col. W. W. Chapman, President of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, said that he had been personally acquainted with Col. Chapman for many years; that he (Chapman) was a gentleman who had served in almost every legislative capacity, and was a man of indomitable energy and perseverance, and had engaged in this great enterprise with a full determination of pushing it forward to completion as the greatest event of his life.

Col. Chapman then addressed the audience, which was the largest, with one or two exceptions, ever assembled in La Grande. The Col. spoke plainly, and showed in a very practical manner why and how the Company proposed to push forward in this matter. The speech was listened to with great interest, and at the close E. S. McComas offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we heartily concur with our brethren in Portland and the Willamette valley in their memorial to Congress for aid to the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company in the construction of a railroad from Portland via Wasco, Umatilla, Union and Baker counties, in Oregon; and Boise City, in Idaho Territory, to a suitable point on the Union Pacific Railroad in the vicinity of Great Salt Lake; and that we do hereby earnestly request our Senators and Representatives to use their best efforts to carry into effect the purposes of said memorial. Which was unanimously adopted.

W. W. Baker offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That we hereby express our full and abiding confidence in the views and plans of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company, as this day expressed to us by the President, hereby tendering to said company our undivided support and co-operation, and to this end we will and do, to the extent of our power and influence, pledge to said company in the construction of said road all the aid the State can legitimately give, both in the loan of its funds liable to be loaned, and the appropriation of its moneys and lands liable to be appropriated to that object.

Unanimously adopted.

On motion of Daniel Chaplin a committee of ten was appointed by the chair to obtain names to the memorial to Congress.

Opportunity was then offered for all present to come forward and sign their names, which was not completed until the lateness of the hour suggested an adjournment.

E. S. McCOMAS, Secretary.

The Fort Hall Reservation.

Father Mesplie has reached Silver City from Fort Hall. He relates to the Avalanche these facts regarding the Indian Agency presided over by Major Berry:

There are about 1,500 Indians on the Reservation, and their affairs are admirably conducted by their Agent, Major Matthew P. Berry. They raised this year 7,000 bushels of potatoes and other vegetables in proportion, besides a large quantity of wheat. It is expected that next season the number of Indians at the Agency will be increased to 7,000 or 8,000, gathered from Idaho, Montana, northeastern Oregon, northern Nevada and Utah. Houses will be built for their accommodation, and Major Berry will instruct them in farming operations, while Father Mesplie will look after their spiritual welfare and instil into their savage natures the principles of Christianity. This will constitute the grand central Indian rendezvous of this coast and, if properly conducted, will be a credit to the Government and a special feature of our Territory.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

Mayor Hall to be Arrested.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Times to-day says Mayor Hall will shortly be arrested on a similar complaint to that on which his fellow-conspirators now await the course of justice.

The Shakespeare Memorial Committee have contracted for a handsome base for the Central Park statue, to be dedicated on the 23d of April.

Connolly is still under arrest. Strenuous efforts were made to-day to procure bail without success.

Movements of Alexis.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Alexis attended divine services to-day in the Russian church on Second avenue. He accepts the invitation tendered him to visit Boston December 7th.

Greeley on the Nomination for President.

Greeley, in the Tribune to-morrow, in reply to the Times' article, says he committed a stupendous folly in permitting himself to think of the Presidency. He says that within six or eight months he has received thirty or forty letters, mainly from private persons, proposing him as a candidate for the Presidency. His answers were in the same spirit as that of the only letter he remembers having seen in print, to Wm. Lawlor, Leavenworth, Kansas, on the 4th of May last, that he is not an aspirant for any office. He says he is very certain he will never make himself a candidate for President, and it seems quite improbable that others will make him such. He protests against the acrimony, malevolence and venom manifested by certain journals, which have been set on to clear the track of all intruders.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The President's Message.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The President has finished the draft of his annual message. Unusual care is taken to prevent its premature publication; nor will he risk printing in advance of the delivery of the document to Congress. All copies will be in manuscript.

It is said by a gentleman recently arrived from Utah that Minister Schenck's connection with the Emma Mining Company as one of the Directors, is of recent occurrence. Senator Stewart is, or was recently in London on business connected with the mines.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Slight showers fell during the night. Sharp thunder was heard this morning. Very heavy showers fell at intervals all day and at noon, being the heaviest of the season. The bar is quite rough and the barometer indicates continued storms.

Preparations are being made here quietly for a fitting reception for Prince Alexis. A military reception, banquet and ball will probably be among the features of the programme.

It is now announced to the officers and crew of the steamship California, the flag ship of the U. S. Pacific squadron, that the steamer will sail for Honolulu, Tahiti, and a long cruise in Polynesia, on Tuesday. The officers who had anticipated a pleasant winter on the Spanish American coast, with any amount of tropical luxuries, balls, receptions and charming scenery, are not wholly delighted with the change of the programme which is now announced. The Pensacola will probably sail for Honolulu some time next week.

Arrived—Schooner Page, from Sitka with furs and skins.

The Liberty Base Ball Club of San Francisco who were badly cleaned out at the last champion match, by the Wide-Awakes of Oakland, yesterday, losing the champion bat, the score standing 31 to 12, will challenge their opponents for a new contest next season, being determined to win back the bat at any sacrifice. A lively contest is looked for.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 26.—It has been raining here steadily since about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

PETALUMA, Nov. 26.—It rained nearly all last night and to-day. We had frequent and heavy showers. It is still raining at 8 P. M.

REDWOOD, Cal., Nov. 26.—The residence of J. F. Preble was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock this morning. Insured in the Ætna Company.

OROVILLE, Nov. 26.—The planing mill of Sovereign & Hamilton was destroyed by fire last night. Loss $6,000. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 26.—Last night at half past 11 o'clock a man tried to enter the store of Pauli Brothers, on Mark West Creek. The clerk, who had not yet retired, asked repeatedly "who is there?" Not getting any satisfactory answer he fired two shots through the door, seriously wounding a supposed robber, who is now in the hospital. The shooting is generally considered justifiable.

Acquittal of Ralls—The Weather at Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 27.—V. S. Ralls, for shooting at Jas. D. Fay, in February last, was concluded in the Circuit Court to-day, having occupied nearly three days. After an absence of only half an hour the jury came into court with a verdict of "not guilty," which was received with continued applause by the crowd that occupied the court room.

The weather is clear and cold. About two inches of snow fell here last night.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Every county in Massachusetts was carried by the Republicans.

The Democratic majority in Maryland is 3,000 less than it was one year ago.

In Mississippi the Republican majority is 15,000. Both houses of the Legislature are secured by that party.

"Boss" Tweed's majority in the Sixth Senatorial District of New York was this year 9,968, against 22,088 two years ago.

In each house of the New York Legislature the Republicans have exactly three times as many members as the Democrats; in the House 96 to 32; in the Senate 24 to 8.

New Jersey elected Parker (Dem.) Governor, because Walsh (Rep.) was unpopular. On members of the Legislature the Republicans have a majority of the popular vote of the State.

The expenses of the New York Government have increased from $476,893 05 in 1865 when the State was Republican, to $823,473 50 in 1870 under Democratic management. This shows that Tweed & Co. are not the only expensive fellows in the Democratic party.

The New Orleans Times (Dem.) speaking of the late elections, observes: "The National Democracy, as it has been for sometime organized, receives its coup de grace. Almost the only stay and hope of the party has been swept from under it by the general result in the State of New York."

WHY COCHISE IS CRUEL AND VINDICTIVE.—The White Pine News tells why Cochise, the Apache chief, is an enemy to the whites, in the following:

We know yet of some good, even in that much-abused piece of dusk humanity, Cochise. He is brave as the very lion's heart, and was noble, generous and kind; but he was imposed upon by supercilious army officers. Cochise and his people had prided themselves always in the boast that no hand of theirs had ever shed a whiteman's blood. They were peaceful, and delighted in performing friendly offices for the whites. But a spooney Lieutenant, in command of a post, was enamored of a pretty Mexican woman; and her child was spirited away by prowling Indians. And this Lieutenant, to illustrate his gallantry to his mistress, made a parade of the case, and swore that the child must be brought back. To crown his gallantry, he had Cochise, and brother, Mangus Colorado, captured and held as hostage for the child's return. Cochise called all his people to his place of imprisonment, and satisfied himself that none of them knew anything of the matter. He so reported to the commander of the post, and offered his services to assist in finding the child and visiting punishment upon the offenders; but no, the Lieutenant stolidly refused to hear the Indian's story, backed though it was by a life of manly bearing and good behavior. Cochise was retained, and badgered and threatened till, in his desperation, he slashed through the tent with his knife, and leaped into the faces of the surrounding soldiery, in broad daylight, and struck through the ranks and off to the plains. Since then he has been the implacable enemy of the white race. The Indian to him, "born on the grass," charges up to our race the offense of our representative in authority—that loving Lieutenant. Afterward, Magnus Colorado was murdered while a prisoner. He could have been killed in the daylight, but our Lieutenant preferred to trump up the subterfuge that the prisoner attempted to escape, and killed him for that.

EVIDENCES OF
DR. ABORN'S SUCCESS
In the treatment of
CATARRH & NERVOUS DEBILITY.

TO THE AFFLICTED:—I wish to say that I have been afflicted for about fifteen (15) years with Nasal Catarrh. Of late it affected my throat and lungs and prostrated my whole system, so that I was scarcely able to pursue any business. I had tried several physicians without deriving the least benefit. In this seemingly hopeless condition, I applied to DR. ABORN about three weeks ago, and placed myself under his treatment, and I am most happy to state that I found wonderful relief within five minutes after using his apparatus and medicines, and continued to improve. I am now cured of the cough and pains through my chest and body, and in fact, both mentally and physically I feel like a new person. I have recovered from the nervous debility. The offensive odor from my head and breath, which was so annoying, has disappeared. I have gained about eight pounds in three weeks. The Doctor has accomplished more in three weeks than what I supposed was possible to have done in as many months. Truly, M. L. DEAN.

DR. ABORN
ON
NASAL CATARRH,
DISEASE LEADING TO CONSUMPTION.

This is a chronic affection of the mucous membrane of the nostrils or the throat, originating in irritation or inflammation, and attended by more or less discharge. It is one of the most common, most disgusting, and finally, most destructive of diseases incident to the variable climate of our northern latitude.

In its early stages catarrh often fails to attract the patient's attention, so insidious is its approach. This is an unfortunate circumstance, because the most favorable period for treatment is thus unimproved, and because of the peculiar disposition of this disease to extend upward to the frontal sinuses, backward through the Eustachian tubes to the middle ears, and down through the larynx, trachea, and bronchia, to the air-cells of the lungs.

The discharge from the affected part is at first a clear fluid, which may escape observation, unless it changes to be of a more than usually acrid character. As time goes on this gives place to a fluid that is thicker, and of a yellowish green color, and still later this may be succeeded by thick flakes or scales.

In all the more advanced stages the discharges are generally of an offensive odor, causing great annoyance to one's friends and to the patient himself, while his sense of smell remains. This annoyance from the odor becomes almost beyond endurance, when, as sometimes happens, the delicate bones of the nose become diseased.

Some cases early assume the character of Dry Catarrh. There is then a feeling of uneasiness, heat, and stiffness in the nostrils, which are often (one or both of them) closed by thickening of the mucous membrane, and thus a difficulty of breathing becomes a prominent symptom.

On examining the nostrils in Chronic Catarrh with instruments specially adapted to that purpose, we find the lining membrane thickened and of a deeper color than in health. There are seen little points of ulceration, upon which the secretion becomes hardened and forms scabs. When these are picked off the diseased surface is irritated, and frequently bleeds profusely.

In each case of Catarrh the prominent symptoms are determined by the direction in which the disease extends. If this be upward there may be pain over and between the eyes, obstruction of the lachrymal ducts, causing the tears to flow over the cheeks, and possibly ophthalmia inflammation of the eyes. If backward, there will be thickening of the walls of the Eustachian tubes, and consequent tendency to their obstruction, inflammation of the middle ear, buzzing sounds in the head, and impairment of hearing. When the extension is downward, the voice becomes hoarse or whispering, and an unmanageable cough comes on, with expectoration and emaciation, to be followed too often by Consumption and Death.

In cases where the bones of the nose become diseased, not only is the offensiveness of the breath increased, but there is a liability to serious personal deformities, among which are flattening of the nose.

The swallowing of catarrhal secretions deranges the functions of the stomach, causing indigestion and loss of appetite. Debility, paleness, lassitude, headache and disturbance of mind soon follow. In some instances the mental affection is one of irritability, the patient being unduly annoyed by all the little perplexities of life. In others, the prominent feeling is that of the melancholy or depression of spirits, when the invalid can see no hope for himself or his affairs.

Allusion has been made to the extension of Catarrh by continuity of surface along the natural air passages to the substance of the lungs, thus causing Consumption and Death. In this connection it should also be remembered that the air which enters the lungs of a catarrhal patient is, every breath of it, poisoned by exhalations from the foul secretions of the diseased surface. By such air the blood cannot be properly purified and made fit to impart healthy vigor in its unending circuit to all and every part of the animal mechanism. One would suppose that this consideration alone would be sufficient to induce every person thus afflicted to make early application for relief.

The treatment of Catarrh is in part constitutional, whereby the energies of the whole system are called to aid in expelling its destructive enemy. It is in part local, whereby the discharge is made less offensive, diminished and finally arrested, and whereby the ulcerated surface is healed and restored to its normal condition.

By means of new and ingenious apparatus, Dr. Aborn is able in Catarrh and all other affections of the respiratory organs, to apply his remedies directly to the desired localities. Treatment is thus made more efficient as well as less disagreeable. In many cases the first application of the topical treatment will change the character of the disease and materially purify the breath.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 28, 1871.

A Final Effort to Enlighten the "Organ."

Our neighbor of the Democratic organ is still romancing. He has been reveling so long amid fictions of his own creating that he finds it irksome to come down to plain facts. So he roams, fancy free, through realms which his own imagination has created, and makes his invention supply resources in lieu of facts on which others depend. Talking of the expenditures of the Government, he wants to make it appear that during the last five years there has been actually drawn from the pockets of the people and paid out for carrying on the Government the sum of $4,589,999,546, or nearly one thousand millions a year. Now the entire receipts of the Government from taxes of all sorts have been but little more than one-half of this sum. Isn't it plain, then, that there is something out of joint in our neighbor's statement? We have several times shown him what it is. In the aggregate which he quotes from the Finance Report is included all worn-out currency returned to the Treasury to be exchanged for new issues, all the certificates for coin which is deposited in the Treasury for brief periods and drawn out again, and sundry other exchanges, amounting to many millions which are really no part of the expenditures of the Government, but are included in the statement of receipts and disbursements. To our remark that the Herald fails to take notice of this fact that paper answers:

> We do not make this statement, for the best reason in the world, namely: The Finance Report, which he sent us, shows no such fact. The headings of the various columns of figures, showing what items constitute the "total" expenses, have nothing which answers to worn-out notes received, and new notes issued in their place.

Now the Finance Report which we sent him does show just this thing. We have already once pointed out the place, and will now do it again. The first article in the Finance Report of 1870 is the report of the Secretary of the Treasury. Let our neighbor open his book at page xxi of this report, and he will find these operations stated in detail for the year ending June 30, 1870. He will there find the amount of Treasury notes, fractional currency, and other funds received for exchange including the bonds purchased during the year, the whole amounting to $393,251,282 12. Now the expenditures of that year are stated on page 375 at $702,907,842 88. But this sum includes the former one. Subtracting that former one, which represents the amount of currency, bonds and other funds redeemed during the year, and there is left an expenditure of $309,653,560 75. This last includes interest on the debt and expenditures of every description for the year. Interest on the debt for the year (Secretary's report, page xxx) was $129,235,498. There was paid as premium in currency, on bonds bought during the year (Secretary's report, same page) $15,996,555 60. Interest and premiums together amounted to $145,232,053 60. Deduct this from the $309,653,560 75, as above, there is left as the net ordinary expenses of the Government for the fiscal year the sum of $164,421,607 15.

The above processes show fully how it is that, though the total expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1870, are put down at the vast figure of $702,907,842 88, the actual expenditures for carrying on the Government were but $164,421,607 15, or less than one-fourth the aggregate which the Herald would attempt to show by quoting the lump sum, without analysis, from the Finance Report. It is thus that that paper quotes the Report in such a way as to utterly misrepresent its statements. The Report shows plainly enough in different tables, item by item, the several sums that make up the gross amount. Here is a statement in detail of the entire ordinary expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1871:

Civil List	$19,031,288 56
Foreign Intercourse	1,490,778 25
Miscellaneous	32,715,491 76
Military Service	57,655,675 40
Pensions	28,340,202 17
Indians	8,407,938 15
Naval Establishment	21,780,229 87
Total	$164,421,567 15

The above includes every item of Government expenditure except the public debt. The amount paid on the debt, including principal and interest, currency and other funds redeemed, was $538,486,335 73. Hence the total expenditures are put down in the Finance Report at $702,907,842 88.

We trust we have now made this matter plain to the Herald's understanding. After this it would be sheer dishonesty for that paper to reiterate its former absurd statements that the Government is costing the people nearly one thousand million dollars a year. We have selected for this illustration the fiscal year ending June 30, 1870, because the Herald has the Finance Report for that year and can verify these figures by it. Each of the preceding years will show a like result.

In another way we can make this matter plain, we trust, to our neighbor's comprehension. He says that the Government during the five years ending June 30, 1870, cost the people the prodigious sum of $4,589,999,546. Now let him turn to page 272 of his Finance Report and he will find that the entire net revenue of the Government for those five years from taxes of all sorts, sales of public lands and miscellaneous sources, was $2,298,120,037, or only about half as much as he wants to make it appear that the Government cost the people. True, the "total expenditures" are put down on page 275 at the figures he states, but these figures include, as we have already repeatedly shown, the whole amount of redemptions and exchanges of various sorts of funds in the Treasury. These transactions, owing to the form in which the accounts are rendered, swell the aggregate statement of expenditures to about double what they really are. But the Finance Report shows all the operations in detail so fully and so clearly that no intelligent person can fail to comprehend the system or understand its results.

During the five years under consideration the net revenue, as we have shown above, was $2,298,120,037. So that if the vast sum of $4,589,999,546 had been actually expended during that time, the debt would have been increased by the amount of difference between these two sums. But the debt was actually reduced from $2,773,236,173 on the 30th of June, 1866, to $2,480,672,427 on the 30th of June, 1870. (Secretary's report, page xxiv.)

It thus appears that the money actually received and paid out for carrying on the Government during the last five years, including the whole sums paid on the principal and interest of the public debt, are only half as large as the amount which the Herald would make us believe that the Government has cost the people, and that the difference arises from the manner in which the "total expenditures" are rendered, whereby all the exchanges within the Treasury, amounting each year to hundreds of millions, are included in the aggregate of transactions. We trust the Herald now understands this. If it does not, its enlightenment is hopeless.

Additional Explanations.

Since the publication of the "suitable apology" on Monday for the appearance of the item concerning the loan of school money to Mr. Myers, our attention has been called to the following which appeared in the Herald of Sunday. In justice to Mr. Myers we give this statement a place in our columns:

> Rev. A. Myers has lately secured the loan of some school funds to pay the Wallamet Woolen Manufacturing Company an installment on his late purchase of a mill site from that company, on which he is now erecting works for the manufacture of agricultural implements, at Salem. For this loan Mr. Myers gives unincumbered real estate in Salem, appraised by the County Superintendent of Schools at three times the value of the loan, as required by the statutes.
>
> This loan is probably the best, directed one which the Board of School Land Commissioners have lately made, as it is to assist in introducing to Oregon of the most important branches of home manufactures, directly in the interest of the farming community.
> Gov. Grover was formerly a member of the W. W. Manufacturing Company, but is not now, having some time ago sold out his entire stock in the company, and now has no interest whatever in its concerns.

This statement, be it observed, is from the "official organ of the State," and was undoubtedly either written by Gov. Grover or dictated by him. The fact appears here that Mr. Myers has borrowed some of the State educational fund to pay the W. W. M. Co. "an installment on his late purchase of a mill site from that company." We are particular to bring this statement out, because Mr. M. has become hot about the matter, and because his letter published in the OREGONIAN of Monday might lead some to infer that no transaction of this sort had ever taken place. It appears, however, that Gov. Grover had sold his interest in the W. W. M. Co.; of whom the mill site was purchased, and therefore received none of the money which was lent to Mr. M. out of the educational fund to pay for it.

Mr. M., in his letter published on Monday, intimates that he has borrowed through the "State authorities" some "State University funds," but emphatically denies that he has borrowed any school funds from "Miller, Grover & Co."

Here are several distinctions without any substantial difference. It matters little whether the money was out of the "school fund" or the "State University fund." Here is an exceedingly narrow base to raise a question of veracity upon. But in justice to Mr. Myers we wish to let him have the privilege of saying that it is "libelous and slanderous" to assert that he borrowed any of the school fund from "Miller, Grover & Co.," but that it is true that he has been allowed by the "State authorities" to "share in the privileges of the State University fund."

Now who are the "State authorities?" Heretofore during the present administration nobody has thought of asking the question, because it has been well understood that the "State authorities" were none other than this same "Miller, Grover & Co." For our own part, if we had any business to transact with the "State authorities," we should go directly to this firm. Mr. Grover is nominally Governor, but Mr. Miller is the principal man.

The sum of this whole matter is that the W. W. M. Co. has sold Mr. Myers a mill site; that Mr. Grover is not now a member of that Company, but Mr. Miller is; that money has been lent to Mr. Myers by the "State authorities" out of the educational fund to make a payment on the property, and that the chief of the "State authorities," not in name, but in fact, is Mr. Miller himself. Such being the case we are unable to see why Mr. Myers should have made such a pother about our first item. But that gentleman, beyond question, best knows what course he should pursue. The money lent to Mr. Myers is doubtless lent lawfully, for a proper object, and on good security. We have spoken of the matter at such length only because some points in his letter and in the Herald's article seemed to call for further notice.

A gentleman who wrote a letter that appeared in the OREGONIAN of Monday intimates that he will soon give his "sentiment in reference to politicians in general." We do not know that his "sentiment" on this or on any other subject is of sufficient consequence to warrant him in obtruding it on anybody.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

Greeley on the Presidency.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Mr. Greeley concludes his article in the Tribune by saying: "It is not generally conceded that the next President must be a Republican."

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—The Board of Directors of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, decided to-day to pay off the half million floating debt between now and January 1st. This will leave $800,000, which will be paid the first of April next, when the road will be free from its floating debt.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A Herald Washington dispatch says the leading features of the President's Message are Internal taxation, Tariffs, Finances, Treaty with Indians and Ku Klux disturbances in the South. He will recommend the abolition of all internal taxes except on spirits, malt liquors and tobacco in every form, and an urgent recommendation for the revision of tariff, although no articles are recommended for a reduction or abolition of duty. It is, however, suggested that those only would be touched which can be included in the revision with the least injury to the country. No material change in the Indian policy will be recommended. The message will allude but briefly to the Ku Klux. It will be left to the Attorney General to report at length. The result of the labors of the High Joint Commission will be a subject of congratulation. What further measures will be taken respecting the recent campaign in Corea has not yet been definitely determined. A strong policy, however, is indicated for the punishment of Coreans for the murder of wrecked American seamen. The San Domingo question is yet under advisement.

A correspondent writes from Columbia, S. C., that the debt of that State is over $15,000,000, but has heretofore been stated at about $7,800,000. The frauds alleged against some officials are confirmed.

A London letter speaking of the Tichborne trial says the cost of taking and printing the notes of evidence has been nine thousand dollars a week. Hundreds of witnesses have been brought from South America and Australia this week. Witness after witness comes up and swears he recognizes the claimant as the real Sir Roger. The defence will try to prove that they are all mercenary and perjured witnesses, or are utterly mistaken.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The "Forlorn Hope."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Montgomery Blair, in an interview, said: Let the Democratic party keep back and the field be kept clear to disaffected and independent Republicans. Let Radicals call their Conventions and nominate whoever they please, and then let the Democrats rally to his support. He says some sacrifice must be made to Gen. Grant, and expresses a personal preference for William Cullen Bryant, although he thinks Trumbull would make a splendid candidate, as would also Judge Davis, Judge Raney, ex-Secretary Cox and Gratz Brown. He does not think there is any lack of material.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 28, 1871.

CITY.

OUTRAGES UPON CHINAMEN.—The fall of a little soft snow—the type of innocence—seems always to let loose the spirit of mischief. Snow balling is an ancient amusement, and comparatively a harmless one when practiced among equals. When Greek meets Greek it is all right, and as Macbeth would say, lay on Macduff, and damned be he who first cries "hold! enough!" But when a great stalwart Greek, or American, or Irishman, or any other man picks out a sickly heathen Ch and goes for him when he would not venture upon shining a ball ever so gently at a white man, he simply advertises himself as a bully and coward. We have seen several such exhibitions of cowardice within the last two days. It is bad enough for the boys to "double teams" on the Chinamen, and pelt and roll and wash them in the slush—it is worse for grown up strong men to do it. It is the same spirit that would insult a female, outrage decrepit old age, or pounce upon and whip a boy. In the name of decency let the winter sports be conducted between equals, unless the weaker party invite the contest.

A MATTER OF TESTIMONY.—When the case of "Wrestling Joe" was before the Police Court—the charge being perjury—this paper contained, in brief, the testimony offered. Among other things it was said that the witness, Ogle, swore "most positively," that he recognized the defendant, Wrestling Joe, as the man he knew in Illinois as Jas. W. Davidson. Our attention has been called to this statement as incorrect, and calculated to prejudice the case of parties claiming rights in the civil suit now pending. It is perhaps not improper to say that a reference to the deposition of Ogle shows that it was not he who swore positively to the identity of Wrestling Joe and Jas. W. Davidson. The charge against both, Wrestling Joe and G. C. Davidson were ignored by the grand jury, and there is no reason for referring to the matter at all except to correct the error above stated, as an act of justice to all parties in the civil suit.

ABOUT THESE DAYS, LOOK FOR HIGH WATER.—We do not think McCormick, or any other almanac man, says anything about this matter; but then the prophets are not all in the almanac business. The fall of snow in the mountains, must be, from all accounts, very deep; the small streams were already pretty full when the snow storm began, and the Wallamet, at Eugene, was rising quite rapidly on Saturday and Sunday. Should there be now a warm rain, with the wind in the South, as fresh as it blew most of the day yesterday, the mountain snows will be suddenly melted and we can reckon with great certainty upon very high water, if not a flood.

EARLY SNOW.—In all of our former experience in Oregon, we never saw snow enough in the Wallamet valley, in November, to whiten the ground. At the time of the great flood of 1861, there was a heavy fall of snow in the mountains about the last days of November, but in the valley, the storm was wholly rain. In 1861 snow fell very early in December to the depth of nearly a foot. Old settlers who were here in '46 have always spoken of that year as the year of the "early snow." It fell that year early in December. We doubt if any man can recollect such a snow storm as the present, occurring in November, in the Wallamet valley.

STORMY EVERYWHERE.—The news from all parts of the State is of exceedingly hard rains, or of heavy falls of snow. Throughout the mountain region and the country east of the Cascades, the storm was one of snow. The dispatches from a number of points in California, for Sunday and yesterday, were of similar import. The storm seems to have been generally prevalent all over the Pacific coast.

THE ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY'S FAIR.—This Fair, at Armory Hall, has now continued four nights with excellent results, financially and otherwise. Much the larger portion of everything has been disposed of, but there are yet articles enough left to warrant the continuance of the Fair one more night. This evening the drawings will be concluded, and articles not then disposed of will be sold at auction.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED.—A telegram received yesterday announces the appointment of Messrs. T. Savier, Jas. N. Fisk and E. E. Geary, Commissioners to examine and report upon the first twenty mile section of the Oregon Central Railroad. The same gentlemen are Commissioners for the Oregon and California Railroad.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—We hear that an accident happened to the engine and tender on the west side road yesterday, by which both were thrown off the track into a ditch near Beaverton. We did not learn the extent of damage done, if any, nor what the prospect is for getting the trucks on the track again.

MILITARY RUMOR.—It is said that reliable intelligence has been received to the effect that the Twenty-third Infantry will soon be sent from this Department to Arizona, and that the Twelfth United States Infantry will be sent here.

STEAMER DUE.—The steamship Ajax which sailed from San Francisco on Friday will be due here to-night.

A POEM APROPOS.

Just at this particular time we can't think of anything which could have happened better than the receipt of the following little poem on

THE SNOW SPIRIT.

I come from th bosom of yon white cloud
That curtains the sapphire sky,
While the winds of the winter, shrill and loud,
Wave tunes as they whistle by.
In manifold mediums, writ and unwrit,
God's gospels are given to man,
That all with good heart may perform their part
In our Father's perfect plan.

My beautiful, fast-falling fleecy flakes,
Spread softly my mantle down;
With their delicate aid the Young Spring makes
The garlands that form her crown;
For the harvest fields, and the wood's green growth,
The brooks in the summer's hot glow,
The bright blushing blooms with their sweet perfumes
Are part of my precious snow.

Up there in the far cloud-land is my home,
In brilliant beauty arrayed!
Exquisitely fashioned—its dazzling dome
With sunbeams richly inlaid—
Its columns cloudlets of opaline tint—
Its walls are the ambient air—
Its floor is embossed with fret-work of frost
In rain-bow radiance rare.

Peaceful and noiseless I visit the world,
And cover its drear, bare breast,
With raiment pure as innocence impearled
In smiles of an infant's rest.
I come as a type of that better life,
Where all is perfect and fair,
Which those of the earth in a second birth
In eternal joy shall share.

GEO. L. CURRY.

D. Jacobi vs City of Portland; demurrer to the complaint sustained.

State of Oregon vs Ned Percy; time for sentence set for Wednesday and defendant given until to-morrow to move for new trial.

E. B. Gardner vs E. Burk; motion for new trial overruled and judgment rendered against defendant for $60 on verdict of jury.

Kris Kringle's headquarters is at S. L. Stone's, next door to the Postoffice.

As S. L. Stone is closing out at cost his fancy goods, toys and willow ware, this is the last chance to buy cheap.

Boss Tweed and others of the Tammany Ring have been stirred up very lively of late, but that is nothing compared with the excitement caused by Kohn & Fishel, who have stocked their large clothing establishment, No. 91 Front street, with goods for winter wear to suit all classes, not only in style but in price. Seeing is believing, so go and examine their stock.

WINTER EVENINGS—ENTERTAINMENTS.

THE Y. M. C. A. LIBRARY ROOMS, ETC.

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The "Stranger" who has written an appeal for "Evening entertainments," finds but one great lack in the enlightened progress of our city, i. e.: "the absence of places of attraction for the many who have to pass these long and gloomy evenings either in hotels or lonely boarding houses." This gives us again an occasion to advertise our Free Reading Room, well supplied with papers and magazines from this coast and the east. There is a pretty good assortment of them—about as many as we have room for on our table and stands. Quite a number of persons spend their evenings here and seem to enjoy it; yet we have not seen the time when there was not room for one more. We have the floor carpeted and we try to keep the room neat, warm and comfortable. We are sorry that the stranger did not find us; for we think he would have found the lack he refers to supplied in part at least. We believe that he would have spoken well of us and given us credit for advancing on his line of light and progress a little. We think he must have confounded us with the Public Library and considered those in our Rooms as belonging to the "favored few."

This matter of providing a place for literary entertainment to the people of our city has not been entirely neglected. It is well known to residents, if not to strangers, that Mr. Ladd gives the use of nearly all the second story of his fine Bank Building on the corner of Stark and First streets, for this purpose, freely. The room occupied by the Y. M. C. A. is free to all who wish to use, but not abuse it. The Public Library is open on the same conditions, with the exception that one dollar per month is charged. It takes money to carry on both of these Institutions, and all we need say about it is, that on the second story referred to, there is as much furnished for the amount as you will get anywhere. Take the use of the Association rooms for nothing and if that is not cheap enough, enjoy one of the best Libraries there is anywhere, of its size, for one dollar per year.

As for lectures, the Y. M. C. A. have a course every winter. The committee of arrangements inform us that they will be able to furnish a course this season equal if not superior to any in the past. It will, we think, commence soon after the holidays, and we bespeak for it the most generous patronage of the public. The course that the young men of the debating society have started will not interfere. The more lectures we have the better, if they are as expressive of as sound doctrine as was Brother Rosenberg's. By this arrangement we may possibly get two a week as the stranger suggests. We might stop here, but as we in part represent the churches as well as the Association, and as we take a certain pride in all that is beautiful and true, in the growth of our young city, we cannot stop without recommending the stranger to a more careful investigation of the facts of our history, and to a better acquaintance with the people and their institutions. Let him go to our churches with a devout spirit; accept the invitations of ministers to make their acquaintance; attend the sociables and the weekly prayer meetings; and if this is not enough, the daily prayer meeting at the Taylor street Church. And when there if he does not find them sufficiently attractive, let him by his own efforts do something to give them life and spirit. Let him identify himself with our literary, benevolent, musical and religious societies; invest his money and time in promoting their interests; let him, in a word, make up his mind to take the country as it is, in its infancy—the seeds of its institutions and its future greatness just planted. Let him make the best of it by laboring with others with a cheerful spirit in building it up; and then if he ever feels like pointing out its defects, criticising its customs and advising in its affairs, he will be heard. There are men in this city that can take the pen or mount the rostrum, and tell the people hard things, and they will not only be tolerated but thanked; and why? because they are identified with the country; they have grown with its growth and become strong in its strength; they are, therefore, in a situation to feel any weakness or defect in the body politic; and because they feel it they are the ones to speak of it. But what can a man do with Oregon who eats for breakfast, dinner and supper, a good slice of New York, one of the oldest and most advanced States in the Union? just like the stranger, he can take the end, but he cannot chew it. He spits it out for it tastes like a root, instead of the ripe fruit he has been accustomed to. Oregon compared to New York is a root just taken out of the ground; but who shall say that in its growth it shall not bear up institutions that shall make her the peer of the older States? The germs of these institutions are now in her. Let us give them time to grow, and, when after a century of development has elapsed, it is possible that we shall have a city here as large as the one in Northern New York, as few criminals, and as good accommodations for strangers. Respectfully,

W. R. JOYSLIN,
Secretary Y. M. C. A.

PERSONAL.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. C. Bills, who has been and still is very sick, was considered better yesterday.

The Omaha Herald of the 12th notices the arrival at that city and departure of ex-Senator Williams for Washington.

We hear that Judge Deady is quite ill of erysipelas. The United States District Court was adjourned yesterday on account of his inability to attend.

Grand Master E. L. Bristow, who has been making an official visiting tour of the Lodges I. O. O. F. of Oregon, arrived in this city yesterday, and visited Minerva Lodge last evening. He will visit Samaritan Lodge Wednesday evening, and on Thursday evening will meet the Degree Lodge for the exemplification of the degree work. Members of all Lodges are invited to attend.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Dr. Watkins has removed his residence to the corner of Ninth and Morrison streets. See advertisement.

QUESTION ANSWERED.—Where can I go to buy a large fat gobbler or a nice fat hen turkey? Just go to Quinn's fish and poultry market, on Washington street, the only place where you will be sure to get them.

ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, nasal catarrh and all affections of the throat and lungs are treated successfully by the new and scientific mode as practiced by Dr. Aborn, corner Third and Morrison streets.

Everybody says S. L. Stone is selling the best bit and two bit cigars in the city.

Lady, mister, where is the Postoffice? Why, it is next door to S. L. Stone's cigar and tobacco store.

S. L. Stone is giving more toys and fancy goods for six bits than any house in town does for one dollar.

WORK of every description in the house finishing line will be done at short notice to the best of satisfaction.

TESTIMONIAL.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it has proven superior to any method we have ever known. And that although the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be in the aggregate much cheaper, beside being a great economy in point of time. We, therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our homes and interview her pupils.

PERKINS & HOUSE'S SAFETY LAMPS

It is perfectly non-explosive. The light is better than is produced by any other lamp. I believe it to be true economy in view of the safety, the quality and quantity of the light produced, and the durability of this lamp, to throw away all other kinds and use this only.

PROF. W. S. CLARK,
Pres't Mass. Agricultural College.

I know it to be by far the best light we have ever used in our family. I know of nothing that can compare with it. I prefer it to any gas burner I have ever seen. For safety, for economy, and for the perfection of the light, it deserves to come into universal use.

The True Grounds of Confidence.

Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute undoubting faith in the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for indigestion, billious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevails in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and is still extending. It is not the result of credulity, it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts, that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic as a preventive escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect that precaution, are prostrated by disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself, withhold its indorsement? Eye witnesses of the salutary effects of the bitters are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. Thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness to its extraordinary medical properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state the reason for the faith that is in them: They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficent operations.

NEW YORK

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY!

PURELY MUTUAL!

ASSETS..........$17 000,000!

ISSUED 9.925 POLICIES IN 1870.

Insuring Over $27,000,000!

WM. H. BEERS,
Vice President and Actuary.

MORRIS FRANKLIN,
President.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY are:—

1st. PURE MUTUALITY, so that the entire surplus earnings over the actual cost of insurance is returned to the policy holders who are the only members.

2d. AGE, having been organized in 1845. It has the benefit of the experience of a quarter of a century, and members are thus guaranteed from all doubtful experiment in the method of conducting its business.

3d. STABILITY AND PERPETUITY shown by the accumulation of a capital of Seventeen Millions of Dollars, after paying all losses promptly, and returning large dividends to its members. It has now an income of over Seven Millions of Dollars, and the interest on its investments, with premium on gold, &c., has been sufficient during the past two years to pay accruing losses.

4th. NON-FORFEITURE OF POLICIES. It originated the system of non-forfeiture of policies, and to it the public are indebted for a feature so favorable to the insured.

5th. SUICIDE does not cause a forfeiture of the policy, that being considered an evidence of insanity, and insanity the result of disease.

6th. DIVIDENDS. Its dividends are declared annually, and are available immediately as cash in payment of premiums. Many companies declare their premiums annually, but do not pay them till several years thereafter; others defer their declarations for two, three or four years from the time the policy commences. In this Company a party always has a dividend which can be used in the payment of the second and all subsequent annual premiums.

7th. ITS DIVIDEND SYSTEM is the "Contribution Plan," by which each member is charged with the exact cost of his insurance, and receives back his surplus payments. These dividends can remain with the Company, participating in its earnings, and be used at any subsequent period in the payment of premiums.

8th. LIBERALITY IN SETTLEMENT OF LOSSES. Experience has shown that cases arise where policies, although EQUITABLY claims, are not LEGALLY so. The records of this Company bear many acknowledgements from widows and relatives of deceased members of its liberality and fairness in settlement of all such losses. There being no stockholders in the Company to share its profits, interests adverse to policy-holders cannot possibly arise, the Trustees simply occupying the position of arbitrators between the members, with no inducement to take from one and give to another.

INTERVIEWED.

Bold Opinions Truly Expressed.

POPULARITY IS NOT ALWAYS A proof of desert. Every newspaper man knows that. Many articles are engineered into temporary popularity that have no intrinsic merit whatever. It is an easy thing to make sweeping assertions and sow them broadcast in the columns of the public press. But there is a class of experienced and thoughtful birds not to be caught with chaff, like Captain Cuttle, they want "an opinion as is an opinion," in other words, the judgment of competent and disinterested authority, as a basis for their own.

Several of these cautious individuals having done us the honor to invite an expression of opinion in these columns on the properties of the much talked of Tonic known as PLANTATION BITTERS, we have taken the pains to obtain from a distinguished physician whose ability and integrity of purpose no one will venture to question, what may fairly be deemed a conclusive answer to the questions of our correspondents. Dr. Elias Kennedy Whitmarsh, as a surgeon, pathologist and chemist, has few superiors west of the Alleghanies, and the following conversation which occurred a few days ago between that gentleman and one of our staff, is offered, without comment, for the information of "whom it may concern:"

REPORTER—Have you any objection to state your views in relation to a medicinal preparation which has obtained great celebrity in this country? The object is to ascertain whether the reputation is deserved or not.

DR. WHITMARSH—If I know anything about the article, I'll tell you what I think of it. How is it named?

REPORTER—PLANTATION BITTERS.

DR. WHITMARSH—Well, it is a wholesome vegetable tonic.

REPORTER—Anything else?

WHITMARSH—Yes, it has a mild aperient property, and produces a salutary effect upon the liver when that organ is diseased.

REPORTER—It contains alcohol I understand—Santa Croix Rum.

DR. WHITMARSH—Of course it contains a diffusive stimulant. If it did not its medicinal ingredients would be comparatively inert. They are rendered operative by the alcoholic principle.

REPORTER—Supposing that theory to be correct, is Santa Croix Rum a good article for that purpose?

DR. WHITMARSH—The best I think. It is more nutricious and far less exciting than the spirits made from grapes or grain.

REPORTER—But are stimulants really necessary at all in medical treatment?

DR. WHITMARSH—Sir, if you had ever practiced medicine you would not ask the question. They are an essential portion of the materia medica. Every intelligent member of the profession knows that. The physician who denies it is either a hypocrite or a fool.

REPORTER—Do you consider a medicated stimulant like the PLANTATION BITTERS preferable to simple alcohol? In other words, would the Santa Croix Rum be as useful without the other ingredients as with them?

DR. WHITMARSH—Certainly not. Among those ingredients are Extract of Dandelion, one of the finest antibilious medicines I know of; Calisaya Bark, of all tonics the best; and Chamomile, an admirable stomachic. The remedial powers of these curatives is increased probably tenfold by the nutritive stimulant with which they are incorporated.

REPORTER—You seem to have a high opinion of the Bitters.

DR. WHITMARSH—I simply state facts, sir. You must draw your own conclusions.

REPORTER—May I ask if you ever prescribed PLANTATION BITTERS for your patients?

DR. WHITMARSH—I do, frequently. All that I have said to you is founded on my own experience. I never make positive statements on unsubstantial grounds.

REPORTER—I am sure of that. Excuse me for having trespassed so long on your valuable time. Good evening.

We presume the correspondents who have addressed us on the subject of PLANTATION BITTERS, will consider their questions satisfactorily answered by the remarks of Dr. Whitmarsh.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

To a Poet

BY H. M. H.

Blue and gold—exquisite!
Gilt-edged and softly tinted!
Read the Reviews! "Ah! "Genius
Palpable, hidden and hinted."

But I look in vain for my hero.
False hearts and treacherous wiles
Come out, like "La Mode" of the fashion,
Dressed in new spring styles.
O, Poet, sing of my hero
In cadences and strophes and chimes,
Or, by the soul of the Muses,
You die in spite of rhymes!
Let your song be sudden and plaintive,
Fearless and faltering not;
Like the mystical cry of the panther
That answers the hunter's shot,
Let your numbers be fierce, but subtle,
Till into my soul they creep
Like lost and roaming echoes,
And I listen, and wildly weep!

No more of the passions of men and
Of their fabulous vows of love,
Sound us no note of despair—
No wail of a mateless dove—
For doves will wail for themselves,
And men will do their mourning;
But the hills and the rocks speak not
Neither in pride or scorning;
Men are fickle and false,
And women grow old and cold,
But a cloud will always blush
When dipped in the sunset's gold.

No more in volumes olden
Culling and conning all day,
Take your winged steed to yon mountain
And loosen him there to play;
O, mountain, rise up for my Poet
And show him your grandest peaks;
Let your bird from the bright cliffs call him,
While she circles and wildly shrieks.

Let him sing of the homeless hero
Who loitered around your base,
When ~~new~~ in a [illegible] frenzy,
Dived for the camp and the chase;
Sing of the lengthened pack-trains
That wound through thy solitudes—
Of their souls that never echoed
In the wilderness of other woods.

Up high on the rounded summit
A still white cover is spread,
And a frozen cloud hangs over,
Still and stark as the dead;
On yon point the tree bends over
And crouch from the tyrannous wind,
Till he sighs in the valley, repentful,
And wails, "peccavi, I sinned!"
In the depths a stillness is waiting—
A plaintive stillness that fills
The air with a dull oppression,
And the heart with icy thrills.

Sing of a weary miner,
Who long, long years ago,
Traversed these lonesome gulches
And climbed to a summit of snow;
In the dead and lonesome silence
He lighted his red camp-fire,
And it warmed the heart of the forest,
Pitching up higher and higher,
And the gray side of the mountain
Comes forth like a scenic show,
With a group of pantomime shadows
Wandering to and fro.

And the sound of the sea comes to him
Like thunders of distant cars.
The brook leaps up from the canyon
And catches the listless stars,
The camp-fire signs as beetle him
In a rhyme with the cricket's drone;
His meat is crisped on the embers,
And he drinks his tea alone.
A ghastly skull of the red man
Shines out from the fern leaves there;
Alas, and alas, poor miner,
Thine own is as smooth and bare!
The mad blaze snaps at the pine boughs
That quiver and waver and fall,
And his shadow leans over the dead logs,
Lengthened and crooked and tall.
From the wild and gloomy forest
Comes the cry of a lone wolf,
From the dark ravine up-hurling
The threat of a savage growl;
But his rifle stands by the fir tree—
In his belt a knife and brace;
So he dreamily looks in the camp-fire,
And a smile plays over his face.
Down in the gulch he has sifted
Some sand that is fine and black—
There is gold lying under the boulder
And he saw the river's track.

Now down on the side of the mountain
He strays in rambling quest,
Of a level nook by a fir tree
To spread his lonely rest.
In dreams sweet visions come to him
More bright than the gold below,
For he dreams that the woman is true
Who was false long years ago;
He hears her loving voice,
And they pledge their vows anew,
And hand in hand the dreamland
They wander through and through.

O, Poet, sing of my hero:
He is weary and homeless and old,
And he sleeps by his dying camp-fire,
Dreaming of Love and gold.
In his wild-woods a shrill note echoes,
And a dead leaf drops from the stem,
And a shadow stirs under the fir tree—
Go, sing thou in numbers of them!

PORTLAND.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 27, 1871.

Gold in New York—110⅞.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 90c buying, and 90½c selling.

The steamer California is not reported at this writing.

The ship Windward, from San Francisco, and a bark, name unknown, reported outside the bar.

The brig Brewster, due at this port, was chartered in San Francisco previous to leaving to bring wheat as return cargo.

The steamer Oriflamme arrived in San Francisco this A. M. She will leave there for this port on Friday.

The O. S. N. Co. refused freight for points above Celilo to-day.

The bark H. W. Wood, at Honolulu, has had destination changed to San Francisco.

Steamers have resumed their trips to Corvallis with the prospects of not being interrupted the balance of the winter.

The following table shows the exports from this port since July 1, 1871:

	Flour. bbls.	Wheat. ctls.	In Wheat. ctls.
Ex. to California—July	3,679	952	12,539
August	4,922	1,181	15,947
Sept	7,272	25,411	47,224
Oct	7,050	61,059	84,900
Nov. 27	9,829	62,851	90,829
	33,349	160,904	250,948
Ex. to United Kingdom		109,405	169,405
Exports to Victoria, Sitka and Sound Ports	12,636		37,908
Total exports from July 1st to Nov. 27th	45,985	270,309	390,207

Accounts from California state that in the San Joaquin valley there is great activity in seeding and many thousand acres have been sown. In Yolo a large quantity of land has been seeded. From all sections reports are that Wheat was put in large tracts last year and gathered things are this year seeding equally as much. One of our San Francisco exchanges in remarking upon the prospects says:

Thus far we have had less than an inch of rain in most localities. This quantity should be increased to at least three inches by the close of the month. Then with six or eight inches in December and as much more in January, the same of it in February, March and April, with a shower or two in May, we should get along nicely, and good crops would be measurably guaranteed. As matters now stand, there is considerable uncertainty, and some fear and anxiety.

It says further:

The Wheat and Flour movement since July 1st, reduced to the basis of Wheat, may therefore be stated thus:

Stock in city, July 1, 1871, ctls 263,250
Receipts, California and Oregon 1,810,469
Total supply 2,054,719
Exports 921,161
Consumption and stock in city 1,133,558
Deduct city consumption 225,000
Approximate stock 908,558

From this last quantity must be deducted the quantity taken for distilling, feed and seed. At the beginning of the present harvest-year, a leading grain-exporting firm, of superior facilities for obtaining information are of an extensive character, estimated the surplus Wheat for export at 700,000 tons. Of this quantity we have already shipped (including 10,500 tons from Oregon) 65,000 tons. According to this estimate, we may yet have 64,000 tons California Wheat for export, beside such quantity as may come from Oregon. The quantity of Wheat (including Flour) now in the State is variously estimated, some placing the amount as high as 140,000 tons and others as low as 100,000 tons, while some affirm that there is not enough left to seed and feed the State until next harvest. Including Nevada, we have 600,000 people to feed. These will use 50,000 bbls Flour per month, or 350,000 bbls up to the 1st of July, 1872, equal to 52,500 tons of Wheat. The average amount allowed for seed is 60 lbs to the acre. If we put in Wheat as much land as was seeded last year, say 2,000,000 acres, we shall need 60,000 tons for seed, a portion of which has already been used. The quantity likely to be taken for distilling is given at 10,000 tons. It is estimated that not over 10,000 tons will be drawn from the 140,000 tons in the State, for seeding the localities not already provided for. Taking this fact into consideration, together with the diminished quantity necessary for consumption, by the reservations made, and we shall have from 70,000 to 80,000 tons California Wheat for export to July 1, 1872.

During the months of July, August and September Hon. Nathan Sargent visited, under appointment from Secretary Boutwell, all the principal seaports of the Atlantic States to consult with the Collectors upon measures of reform to be introduced in Congress by the U. S. Tax to Finance Committee. It was very generally understood after his return to Washington City that many suggestions would be made which if adopted would create a radical change in many respects and more equalize our present tariff. Mail advices from the States gives information that the Senate Finance Committee has been empowered to Washington to take into consideration the details of such a revision of our revenue system as will reduce taxes $100,000,000. As this includes a revision of the tariff as recommended by Mr. Sargent, many imported articles, most obnoxious to the contemplated change, are in consequence drooping in the East owing to the importers throwing them on the market.

Notwithstanding the advanced season statisticians in Europe are yet unable to form any reliable estimate as to the surplus, as a whole, of some of the large wheat growing countries in Europe, and the wants of others. All statements concur in stating that the Oat and Barley crops are good, and as a whole, above an average, and that the corn crop, as a whole, is fully up to an average. The following statements are condensed by us from different sources: In Prussia proper, the Wheat crop is fully an average. In the districts of Pomerania, Posen and Silesia the straw was fine and gave great expectations of a large harvest, which proved false upon threshing, but still the yield was an average. In Brandenburg, Saxony, Hanover, Westphalia and the Rhineland the crop was at least 25 per cent. below an average. In Northern Russia the crops of Wheat and Rye give rise to great complaint. But this was expected as the gradual increasing cold particularly in Finland, once the granery of Europe, now having to import, interferes with Wheat growing. In Sweden, Norway and Denmark the yield of crops were better than expected, and this year will not import any, but may be able to export a little. The official reports of the crops of Italy make a deficit of 16,000,000 bushels of Wheat, which will have to be imported. In Hungary crops are good and they will be able to export, the crops being estimated as follows: Wheat, 21,358,509 bushels; other cereals, 20,605,141; export surplus of Wheat and other cereals being placed at 7,930,842 bushels. From Russia, as a whole, we are unable to form any estimate. Dates of October 13th from that portion of Russia known as Rostoff-on-the-Don, state that contrary to expectations the quantity and quality of the cereals prove inferior, which is attributed to the excess of rain and tropical heat. The government of Voroney, the most important source of supply to Rostoff for export, is 25 per cent under an average Wheat crop. The quality is reported good, but weight light, only averaging 48 pounds to the bushel. Oats and Barley are an average crop. In the Limo district Wheat is in a bad condition.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—Some few lots were offering at the close of last week but no sales made owing to difference in the views of buyers and sellers. The steamer John L. Stephens took on for California 3,792 sks. We quote market at the nominal quotations of $2 25@2 30 per cental sacked.

FLOUR—The reduction mentioned by us in this morning's issue was of one or two outside country brands which do not at all effect our standard brands. We quote Imperial, Commercial and Standard at $7 50 ⅌ bbl, firm with no concessions. Other brands from $6 50@7 25 ⅌ bbl. The John L. Stephens took on for San Francisco 1,443 bbls, mostly of the Standard brand.

OATS—Market very firm with prices stiffening on our quotations. Unless one of the vessels with some on put in an appearance soon prices, with the demand now existing, must advance. We quote market at $2 50@2 60 per cental sacked.

POTATOES—It is thought but not positively known that the past few days of cold weather has destroyed considerable as some of our farmers are proverbial for the loose manner in which they care for their products. Dealers are purchasing at $1 75@2 00 per 100 lbs, for Oregon.

POULTRY—Dealers are buying at the following prices: Grown Hens and Roosters, $4@4 50 ⅌ doz; Turkeys, $2@2 25 each; Geese, $8@9 50 ⅌ doz.; Ducks, $5@6 ⅌ dozen.

GAME—Dealers are buying at the following prices: Venison, 7@8c ⅌ lb; Ducks, $1 50@2 50 ⅌ doz.; Geese, $7@8 ⅌ doz.; Quails, live, $1 50@2 ⅌ doz.; Quails, dead, $1@1 50 ⅌ doz.; Pheasants, $2 50@3 ⅌ doz.; Grouse, $3 ⅌ dozen.

General Merchandise.

TURPENTINE—Stocks very light with prices advancing in San Francisco and here, in consequence, prices will be sustained here at $1@1 05 ⅌ gallon.

GLASS—Small sizes, so we are informed, are out of the market in San Francisco and here, and consequently have been advanced ten per cent, owing to having to cut the sizes from larger ones.

Daily Receipts of Produce.

Per O. C. R. R.—200 lbs flour, S & B; 300 lbs flour, K. Otto; 7 pkgs woolen goods, to order; 150 sks flax seed, O F D; 50 dressed hogs, to order.

Per Senator—178 sks wheat, C & M; 157 bales hay, E & F; 320 qr sks flour, W & M; 8 bales hay, W P A; 30 bbls, A & B; 17 bales, 16 reams paper, C P Mannig Co; 3 bales Woolen goods, A & L; 1 bale woolen goods, L White.

Per Emma Hayward—320 sks wheat, J H & Co; 99 sks flour, A & L; 70 sks flour, L; 33 sks wheat, S & E.
